A D V E R T I S E M E N T.

THE Compiler of this small work, having been strongly urged by Travellers and others, to draw up, in as small a compass as possible, a succinct account of the Monies and Currency of different Countries, although fully aware of the difficulty of the undertaking, resolved to comply with their request; and, convinced of the importance of correctness in a work of this nature, he has spared no pains in procuring information from the most authentic sources.

Finding that little dependance can be placed upon those works which have hitherto been published on this subject, owing partly to the alterations that have taken place in the monetary system of various countries; he has received information (where practicable) from the places direct; and where he had not the opportunity of so doing, he has obtained it from those Merchants who were most likely to be well informed, by trading to the places, respecting which, information was wanting.

The Table of Monies has already gone through three separate editions on a sheet, and has met with a most favorable reception.

To those gentlemen who have kindly furnished him with information, he respectfully tenders his grateful acknowledgments; and will feel obliged by any further communication, by which he may be enabled to improve the work in the next edition.

The Tables of Exchange for London, France, and Genoa, are nearly ready.

By this Table, the value of the money of one country may be readily found in the currency of any other, by a simple Equation or Rule of Three statement; thus, if it be required to find the value of 1 milrea of Lisbon, in the currency of Berlin? By the Table is shewn, that 1 milrea is equal to 6*f.* 11*c.*, or 611 cents; and 30 silver groschen are equal to 3*f.* 66*c.*, or 366 cents; then,

As 366 : 30 :: 611 : 50; or by Chain Rule, thus—

Term of demand 611 cents

366 cents = 30 groschen

Reduced, gives 50.08 groschen.

It is to be observed, that the value of the monies given in the above and three subsequent Tables is the true equivalent value, which is increased or lessened by the fluctuations in the Exchange. With those countries that give the fixed price, say Cadiz, Lisbon, Leghorn, &c. as the rate of Exchange advances, the value of their money is enhanced; while, on the contrary, with those countries that give the variable price, say Amsterdam, Paris, &c., the value of their money is lessened as the rate of Exchange advances.

N. B. Since the third edition of this Table was printed on the sheet, some trifling inaccuracies have been pointed out, which are here corrected.

To find the distance between any two places.— Seek the given places in the Table, draw the finger along the line from that place which stands undermost, until it comes perpendicular to the other given place; the number found in the angle thus formed, will give the distance in English miles:—thus, from London to Rome is found in the line even with Rome, in the column headed London; say 373 miles.

A Steam Packet sails every eight or ten days, between Lubeck and St. Petersburg; from Lubeck to Copenhagen, every Tuesday; and from Copenhagen to Lubeck, every Monday; there is also a regular Steam communication to Stockholm; and likewise from Hull to Havre.

Information for Foreigners.—All Foreigners quitting this country, must go through the required formalities at the port of embarkation; those who embark at the port of London, must present themselves, for this purpose, the day previous to their departure (notwithstanding they may have been to the Alien Office in Westminster) to Mr. Fabian, Alien Office in the Custom-house, who will furnish them with the papers which are requisite, without which they will not be allowed to embark.

The Mediterranean Packet leaves Falmouth about the 3rd; Gibraltar about the 10th; Malta about the 16th; Corfu, on her return, about the 3rd; Malta about the 6th; Gibraltar about the 13th of every month.

Passports for FRANCE, may be procured in London from the Passport Office, 6, Poland-street, Oxford-street; or Durant St. Andre, Consul General, 4, Token-house-yard; and also of Mr. Black, Ship-street, Brighton. ROTTERDAM, from J. W. May, Esq. Consul, 123, Fenchurch-street. BELGIUM—at the Ambassador's, 17, Fitzroy-square; or from the Consul, H. Castellain, Esq. 3, Copthall-court, Throgmorton-street; or from Mr. Fauche, Consul at Ostend. HAMBURG—from the Hanseatic Consul, 76, Cornhill. PRUSSIA—H. B. Hebeler, Esq. 106, Fenchurch-street; or by applying to Mr. John Schmidt, Agent for Aliens, Ball-court, Cornhill. Passports for France may be obtained at Dover, Portsmouth, and Southampton.

Avis aux Etrangers.—Tous les Etrangers, qui quittent ce Royaume étant tenus par l' Alien Acte de faire les Déclarations requises au Port où ils s'embarquent, ceux qui partent du Port de Londres, s'addresseront pour cet effet, le jour avant leur départ (non obstant qu'ils se soient présentés à l' Alien Office en Westminster) à M. Fabian, à l'Alien Office à la Douane, qui leur donnera les Papiers nécessaires, sans lesquels on ne leur permettra pas de s'embarquer.

To Travellers on the Continent.—Passports for France may be had, free of expense, at the Passport Office in Poland-street, by sending the name and address, between the hours of twelve and three on the previous day ; or they may be had on the same day of the Consul General, Token-house-yard, on payment of a fee of ten shillings. A whole family may be included in the same passport, but it is frequently productive of inconvenience to the parties. On leaving France, application must be made to the Prefecture of Police, to get the passport indorsed ; in so doing, be careful to indorse it for the port of embarkation, or the frontier town, if proceeding by land ; for if it be indorsed for England, or any other country, it must be signed by the Chef de Bureau des Etrangers, for which is demanded a fee of ten francs. The passport being indorsed, must then be left at the British Ambassador's, for his inspection and signature, if the party is residing in Paris, or with the British Consul, if residing in a provincial town. The above information does not apply to natives of France, who must have their passports indorsed for the country they are going to.
